THAT the want of an “ AYRSHIRE DIRECTORY ” has long been felt in Law-Courts, Banks, Public Offices—among Factors, Professional Gentlemen, Agents, Innkeepers, Merchants, and Dealers throughout the County—as well as by Strangers, and Professional and Mercantile Houses in Glasgow, Edinburgh, Liverpool, London, and other Cities having intercourse with Ayrshire, has been already fully proved by the numerous Subscribers to this Publication.

Its compilation has been attended with much more labour and expense than those unacquainted with its details might suppose—the Lists for the Forty-six Parishes having been prepared, and at a later date revised, in each Parish.

The Parishes are arranged alphabetically.

PREFACE.

The difficulties attending a first attempt at presenting so very full a List of the Inhabitants of a whole County, are pleaded in excuse of any inaccuracies that may be discovered.

The indication of the Voters, though attempted carefully, had better, perhaps, in the present edition have been omitted, as the Official Registers from which they are taken have never since the passing of the Reform Bill been purged of "dead," and "absent"; while at the date when consulted, this year's Electors had not been added.

Prefixed to the Directory are Fifty-eight pages of County Statistics, Interest Tables, and other information valuable for reference; and Seventy pages of Advertisements are annexed.

and so on, increasing 2d. per oz.

There is no limit to the weight of paid letters, but unpaid, letters must not exceed 4 oz., unless for the public departments, and no inland letter must exceed 24 inches in length.

STAMPS may be used to pay the postage on foreign, colonial, and ship-letters, as well as on inland letters, but, in using stamps care must be taken that a sufficient number are put on the letter to cover the postage, as inland letters insufficiently stamped are charged double the deficiency; and those for abroad are liable to be detained, where the prepayment is compulsory, or sent forward charged with the deficiency. Letters must either be paid wholly in stamps or in money.

Stamps should be placed on the right hand corner of the letter, and care must be taken to see that they adhere.

REDIRECTED LETTERS are liable to new rates of postage, but though the new postage should not be paid on the reposting of the letter, it will be charged only the prepaid rate on delivery.

LATE LETTERS, posted at the provincial offices, must be paid by attaching the requisite number of postage stamps for the postage as well as for the late letter fee, and are in time if put into the Late Letter Box 15 minutes after the closing of the box, with an additional penny stamp affixed, and with three additional stamps they are in time till 10 minutes before the despatch of each mail.

Letters, when once posted, cannot be given back upon any pretence whatever, but must be forwarded to the person to whom they are addressed.

Letters containing articles of a perishable or dangerous nature will be detained as soon as discovered.

Letters to warm climates should be wafered, not sealed, as the wax is liable to be melted, to the injury of the other letters.

MONEY ORDERS.—An order from any one Post-office on any other, for any sum not exceeding £2, may be obtained for 3d., and for a sum between that and £5, for 6d. A money order must be presented for payment before the end of the second calendar month after that in which it was issued, otherwise a new order will be necessary, for which a second commission must be paid; and if not presented before the end of the twelfth month, the money will not be paid at all.

REGISTRATION.—Any letter can be registered on payment of a registration fee of 6d. The postage must be prepaid in stamps, except the letter is going abroad, when it may be prepaid in money or stamps, but the registration fee of 6d. is in all cases to be paid in money. Registered letters to France are charged double the French rate of postage, in addition to the 6d registration fee; and to Prussia, an additional charge of 3d is made; letters to other foreign countries and the colonies cannot be registered farther than the port of despatch. Registered letters must be posted half an hour before the time of the box closing for other letters.

NEWSPAPERS.

Stamped British newspapers, after being sanctioned by the Postmaster-General, pass free from one place to any other place in Great Britain. But when addressed to a person residing within the delivery of the post-town where it is posted, 1d is charged on each paper. British and colonial newspapers pass free to and from the colonies by the mail packets—the privilege includes papers to and from the East Indies by the Southampton packets; and if sent by the Monthly Closed Mails, via France, they are charged 3d, and must be prepaid. When the conveyance is by private ship, the postage is 1d. Foreign newspapers received in Britain, and British newspapers sent to foreign countries, are liable to a postage of 2d, unless there be a reciprocity treaty with the foreign Post-office, when they pass free. The exemption, however, is only total in the case of Post-office conveyances. The following are the countries to which newspapers are forwarded free; Altona, Brazil, Bremen, Bolivia, Buenos Ayres, Columbia, Cuxhaven, Denmark, Equator, Greece, Hamburg, Hayti, La Guayra, Lubeck, New Granada, Oldenburg, Peru, Spain, and Venezuela. Newspapers from and to France, Prussia, and countries through Prussia, are charged $\frac{1}{2}$ d. To Holland and Hanover the charge is 1d., Chili 4d. Turkey, Moldavia, Wallachia, the Levant, Egypt, Greece, Ionian Islands and Italian States, not belonging to Austria, if sent through Prussia, via Ostend, Hamburg, or Holland, are charged 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. Newspapers from Canada through the United States charged 1d. Foreign and colonial newspapers cannot be reposted, after having been read, with a new address, under penalty of full postage charged as a letter; but if the person to whom they are originally addressed has removed or left the place, they can, if not read, be re-directed, and forwarded without additional charge. All newspapers must be without covers, or in covers open at the sides, and any mark or writing is allowed to be put on newspapers (passing from place to place in the United Kingdom, but not to the colonies or foreign parts), if a penny label stamp is affixed either on the cover or outside of the newspaper; but no writing is permitted, other than the address, on the cover, nor any enclosure, under penalty of it being charged the full letter rate of postage. The name and address of the newsvender who may forward the paper, is however allowed to be printed upon the cover without it being charged. It is recommended that the address be written, not only on the cover, but on some exposed part of the newspaper. All newspapers sent out of the kingdom must be posted within 7 days after publication.

PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS, BOOKS, &c.

Printed Parliamentary papers may be sent by post from place to place in the United Kingdom, or to the colonies by the packets, and the proceedings of colonial legislatures sent by packet may be received—at the following rates:—If not exceeding 4 oz. 1d.; if exceeding 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz. 2d.; if exceeding 8 oz. and not exceeding 12 oz. 3d., and so on; and if sent to the colonies by private ship, they are charged double those rates. N.B. The privilege as to the colonies does not embrace the Mediterranean packet conveyance to India. There is no limitation as to weight. Papers must be without covers, or in covers open at the sides, and must have no enclosures or writing other than the address. In papers passing inland, prepayment is optional. Petitions and addresses forwarded to Her Majesty pass free. Members of Parliament may receive petitions and addresses to Her Majesty, or petitions to either House, free, if not exceeding 32 oz., and sent without covers, or in covers open at the sides.

Periodical works and Parliamentary papers may be forwarded to France, Holland, and Prussia, but not to other countries forwarded through them, if the postage is paid in advance, and they are printed in the English language, and sent in covers, open at the sides.

Not exceeding 2 oz.	1d.
Above 2 oz. and not 3 oz.	6d.
„ 3 „ 4 oz.	8d.

And 2d. additional for every oz. up to the weight of 16 oz., to which they are limited.

When this description of publications are forwarded to or from Prussia via Belgium, they are subject, in addition to the above rates, to a Belgian transit rate of 2d. for every $\frac{1}{4}$ oz.

Periodical works and pamphlets may be also sent to, and received from the United States at the same rates; the postage of those received being paid on delivery.

No reprints of copyright works from any place abroad are allowed to pass at the above reduced rates, but are subject to letter rates of postage.

Printed books, magazines, reviews, pamphlets, and music, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, may be transmitted by post through the United Kingdom at the following rates:—

Each packet not exceeding 1 lb. in weight,	.	0s. 6d.
Exceeding 1 lb. and not exceeding 2 lbs.,	.	1s. 0d.
Exceeding 2 lbs. and not exceeding 3 lbs.,	.	1s. 6d.
and so on, 6d. being charged for every lb. or part of a lb.

The following conditions must be observed:—

Every packet must be sent without a cover, or in a cover open at the ends or sides. It must contain a single volume only, the several sheets or parts thereof, when there are more than one, being sewed or bound together; and it must not exceed two feet in length. The name and address of the sender may be written or printed on any such book, &c., or the cover thereof, in addition to the name and address of the person to whom it is to be forwarded; and any other writing may be put, on any leaf of any such book, &c., so sent, or on the binding thereof, provided that all such writing be on one page only of the book or binding. The postage must be prepaid in full by affixing outside the packet, or on its cover the proper stamps. If any of these conditions be violated, the packet will be charged as a letter, and treated as such in all respects.

AYRSHIRE.

AYRSHIRE is in extent 56 miles in length, by 26 in breadth, containing 1600 square miles, divided into 46 Parishes. The Population in 1831 was 145,055; in 1841, 164,356; and in 1851, 189,210. The Parliamentary Constituency is about 4,300, being the largest in Scotland. It is divided into three districts—Bailiaries, whose separate jurisdictions were annulled, by statute, in 1748—Cunninghame, north; Kyle, in the centre; and Carrick, south. Renfrewshire bounds Ayrshire on the north, from Largs to Loudoun Parishes: the Counties of Lanark and Dumfries on the east, from Loudoun to the southernmost point of the Parish of New Cumnock: the Stewartry of Kirkcubright thence on the south to the S.E. point of Colmonell: and Wigtownshire on the south to the sea. The west side of Ayrshire, which forms a crescent, about 75 miles long, is bounded by the Firth of Clyde. Irvine Water separates Cunninghame from Kyle; and the River Doon Kyle from Carrick. Ayrshire, which among the Counties of Scotland ranks next to Aberdeenshire in population, has acquired no small portion of its widely-spread fame as the land of Bruce, Wallace, and Burns. Of late years, it has risen greatly in importance, from the rapid increase of its manufactures and shipping, its improvements in agriculture, and the valuable fields of iron and lead, with which in addition to coal and lime, it abounds. The number of contested elections in Ayrshire, since 1832, has also been a mean of bringing it from time to time under the eye of the nation. It is made prominent every five years by the Caledonian Hunt at Ayr; annually by the Western Meeting at Ayr, in September or October; and by the Eglinton Park Meetings at Irvine. Perhaps in this enumeration we ought not to omit mention of the Eglinton Tournament in September, 1839, which we can well believe attracted thousands of strangers to Ayrshire who otherwise might never have made the pilgrimage. The formation of the Glasgow and Ayrshire Railway has also exercised a powerful influence in giving prominence to Ayrshire; and now that the Glasgow, Dumfries, & Carlisle Railway is opened, a communication from the South is established, the importance of which is daily becoming more appreciated, while the traffic at the Port of Ayr, and other harbours along the coast, will be vastly increased, as they afford ready outlets for the inexhaustible mineral resources of the rich districts through which it is proposed that the projected line shall pass.

ELECTIONS IN AYRSHIRE.

THE following is a return of the Elections that have taken place in the County since the passing of the Reform Act in 1832 :—

COUNTY OF AYR.

At the first election afterwards, in 1832, the late Col. Blair of Blair, previously representative of the County on the Conservative interest, was opposed by the late Richard Alexander Oswald of Auchincruive, and at the close of the Poll on 24th Dec., 1832, the numbers stood—

For Mr Oswald, -	-	-	-	-	2152
- Col. Blair, -	-	-	-	-	324

Majority for Mr Oswald, 1828

The next election took place on 16th January, 1835, when Lord Melbourne resigned, and was succeeded by Sir Robert Peel; at which time Mr Oswald was returned without opposition.

In July 1835, Mr Oswald retired from the representation of the County; when the late Capt. Dunlop of Dunlop came forward on the same interest, and was opposed by Sir J. A. Cathcart of Carleton, Bart., Conservative. At the close of the Poll, on 1st July, 1835, the numbers stood—

For Capt. Dunlop, -	-	-	-	-	1435
- Sir J. Cathcart, -	-	-	-	-	829

Majority for Capt. Dunlop, 606

His late Majesty William IV. died on June 20th, 1837, and Parliament was dissolved in July following. The County Election took place on 8th August, 1837; when Capt. Dunlop was opposed by Lord Kelburne on the Conservative interest, and the close of the Poll was as under—

For Capt. Dunlop, -	-	-	-	-	1559
- Lord Kelburne, -	-	-	-	-	1370

Majority for Capt. Dunlop, 189

Sir John Dunlop died on 3d April, 1839. At the Election that followed, on 30th April, Lord Kelburne was opposed by Mr Campbell of Craigie, on the Whig, and by Mr Hugh Craig, Merchant, Kilmarnock, on the Radical interest—

For Lord Kelburne, -	-	-	-	-	1758
- Mr Campbell, -	-	-	-	-	1296
- Mr Craig, -	-	-	-	-	46

Majority for Lord Kelburne, 462

Parliament was again dissolved in June 1841; when Lord Kelburne was, on July 9th, re-elected without opposition.

By the demise of the late venerable Earl of Glasgow, on 6th July, 1843, Lord Kelburne was elevated to the Peerage; when Alexander Oswald, yr. of Auchincruive, on the Conservative interest, was, on 3d August, returned for the County without opposition: and again on 5th August, 1847.

AYR DISTRICT OF BURGHS.

Burghs—Ayr, Irvine, Campbeltown, Inverary, and Oban.

At the first Election after the passing of the Reform Act, the Right Hon. Thos. Francis Kennedy of Dunure, formerly member, was opposed by James Cruickshank of Langley Park, on the Conservative, and by the late Dr Taylor, on the Radical interest; and at the close of the Poll, on 21st Dec. following, the numbers stood thus—

Mr Kennedy,	-	-	-	-	-	375
Mr Taylor,	-	-	-	-	-	164
Mr Cruickshank,	-	-	-	-	-	33

Majority for Mr Kennedy, 211

The next Election, on the retirement of Lord Melbourne from Office, took place on 22nd January, 1835; when Lord James Stuart, brother of the Marquis of Bute, on the Whig interest, was opposed by Alexander Johnstone, Merchant, Glasgow, on the Radical interest. At the close of the Poll, the numbers were—

Lord James Stuart,	-	-	-	-	-	339
Mr Johnstone,	-	-	-	-	-	323

Majority for Lord James Stuart, 16

At the General Election, on 2nd August, 1837—following upon the death of his late Majesty William IV., which took place on June 20—Lord James Stuart was again opposed by Mr Johnstone—

For Lord James Stuart,	-	-	-	-	-	368
- Mr Johnstone,	-	-	-	-	-	351

Majority for Lord James Stuart, 17

At the General Election in 1841, Mr Stirling yr. of Kier, announced himself to oppose Lord James Stuart, but subsequently withdrew, and the latter was, on 6th July, elected without opposition: and again on 9th August, 1847.

KILMARNOCK DISTRICT OF BURGHS.

Burghs—Kilmarnock, Renfrew, Rutherglen, Dumbarton, and Port Glasgow.

At the first Election after the passing of the Reform Act, Mr Campbell of Craigie was opposed by the late Capt. John Dunlop, of Dunlop; and at the close of the Poll, on 21st December, Capt. Dunlop was found to have a majority of 7 in a Constituency of nearly 1200.

The next Election took place on 14th January, 1835, when Capt. Dunlop was opposed by Dr Bowring, on the Liberal, and Mr Downie, on the Conservative interest, when Dr Bowring was returned by a large majority.

At the General Election on 3d August, 1837, Dr Bowring, Liberal, was opposed by Mr Colquhoun of Killermont, Conservative—

For Mr Colquhoun,	-	-	-	-	509
- Dr Bowring,	-	-	-	-	438

Majority for Mr Colquhoun, 71

At the General Election in 1841, Mr Colquhoun, Conservative, was opposed by Mr Johnstone, who had previously stood for the Ayr Burghs. The election took place on 5th July, 1841—

For Mr Johnstone,	-	-	-	-	490
- Mr Colquhoun,	-	-	-	-	479

Majority for Mr Johnstone, 11

In consequence of the death of Mr Johnstone, on 9th May, 1844, another contest took place—there being three candidates on the liberal side, viz.: the Hon. Mr Bouverie, son of Earl Radnor; Mr Robertson, formerly Editor of the Westminster Review; and Mr Vincent, the advocate for universal suffrage, &c.; and one on the conservative, Mr Prinsep, formerly Member of the Calcutta Council.—Mr Robertson retired in favour of Mr Bouverie. The election took place on 28th May, 1844—

For Mr Bouverie,	-	-	-	-	389
- Mr Prinsep,	-	-	-	-	379
- Mr Vincent,	-	-	-	-	98

Majority for Mr Bouverie, 10

At the general election in 1847, Mr Bouverie was returned without opposition on 30th July.

A Y R .

AYR, the County Town, and a Royal Burgh, obtained its Charter from William the Lion, about the year 1206. The River Ayr divides it from Newton and Wallacetown. Ayr proper contains only about 10,000 inhabitants; but, in speaking of its Population it is generally taken in conjunction with Newton and Wallacetown, shewing an aggregate of about 22,000. In the Charter of erection the name of the Town, derived evidently from that of the River, is written Ar, with a dash through the r—indicating the true orthography Are. The corruption of introducing i first occurs in the records of the neighbouring Burgh of Prestwick, where the word is written Aire. In the old records of the burgh of Ayr, we find, for several years, Ayre, latterly superseded by Aire. In the 18th Century the e was dropped, and in process of time the i gave place to y, and the present spelling Ayr is now almost universal. Partaking more of the Professional than Commercial character—with a Seminary long famed for the Education of youth—a fine climate—situate in a bay, said to be second only to that of Naples—a beautiful Sea beach—moderate rents—excellent Hotels—famous for its Races—the returning Parliamentary Burgh of the District—a Circuit Station of the Justiciary Court—a Synod and Presbytery Seat—with every grade of Society from the peer to the peasant, within its bounds—and with the Scenery in its neighbourhood, immortalized by Burns—it has for a great many years been a favourite resort for families, and individuals having the charge of youth; for Invalids; for Gentlemen of the Naval and Military Professions ; for natives who have amassed wealth abroad, and for others who have been fortunate enough to be able to retire from business at home. If Ayr had attractions of old, these have been greatly increased of late. Indeed, we may safely assert, that no town in Scotland, of the same extent, has, within the last few years, undergone so much improvement in every respect. Elegant and costly public and private Buildings have been erected in the Town—the Vicinity has been studded with handsome villas—the improvement of the Harbour has been attended with a great increase of Shipping—we have one Carpet Manufactory, where employment is given to about 200 of the Operative classes—the Town and neighbourhood are well lighted with gas by two Companies—one spirited Company has supplied the Town with water—and another has erected Public Baths—and the Glasgow and Ayrshire Railway has brought us, if we may use the expression, within a couple of hours of the Western Metropolis, while the South-Western line has regularly opened up a communication from Ayr, by Dumfries, to England, of which we have only yet begun to experience the advantage.

THE RIVER AYR AND “THE TWA BRIGS.”

Arrived at the Railway Station at Ayr, the object nearest the Traveller, is the River Ayr, about thirty miles long, the source of which is on the border of the County, at the eastern extremity of the parish of Muirkirk. Its course, after it leaves the hills, is remarkable for richness and variety of scenery. It abounds with trout, and yielded salmon plentifully, till the erection, in 1700, of a high dam-dyke at the Town's Mills obstructed their passage up the river. About fifty yards from the Station, is the New Bridge, and about 200 yards up the river the “Auld Brig,” which boasted it would be in existence when its more modern neighbour was “a cairn o' stanes”: and very nearly, had the taunt proved true; as the New Bridge having become too narrow for the convenience of the Public, the Commissioners obtained an Act of Parliament to widen it, which was accordingly done in 1840. This Bridge was built in 1778, and cost about £4000. The old bridge was built in the reign of Alexander III (1249-1285), by Isobel Lowe and her sister, two maiden ladies, who, tradition states, spent their fortunes on the undertaking. In this they are said to have been actuated by the philanthropic desire to prevent the loss of life to the inhabitants occasionally sustained from crossing by a ford about 200 yards up the river.

TOWN'S BUILDINGS—OLD AND NEW:

Fronting the visiter, as he crosses the bridge to Ayr, is Sandgate Street, in the centre of which, till 1825, stood the Town's Buildings, consisting of Council Room, Jail, and Steeple. At the date above mentioned they were removed to allow the inhabitants the use of the street, at its full width; and at the corner site near the Malt Cross other buildings more elegant and commodious were erected, with a Steeple the highest we believe in Scotland, being about 226 feet. The buildings, which are in the Grecian style, and of the composite order, were designed by Mr Hamilton, architect, Edinburgh, were founded on 28th March, 1828, and cost about £10,000. Though the situation is low, the spire can be seen for many miles around Ayr. The public rooms consist of a spacious News Room, well furnished with newspapers and periodicals, a Ball Room, $47\frac{1}{2}$ feet long by $26\frac{1}{2}$ broad, and ante-rooms to each, so constructed that the whole can be thrown into one suite of apartments. The Spire, which is a great ornament to the town, was struck by lightning in the winter of 1835, which dislodged two stones near its summit, but fortunately did no farther damage. The injured spot was repaired in the following summer. The bell in the spire, weight 22 cwt., which is remarkable for its fine tone, is heard at a great distance.

WELLINGTON SQUARE, AND COUNTY BUILDINGS.

Wellington Square, which usually attracts the attention of strangers, is of modern formation. The houses, in many instances, are occupied by the proprietors, and where otherwise, rents range from £40 to £70. The feu paid to the town is 3s. per fall on the South side, and 6s. on the North. The North-west side of the Square is formed by the County Buildings, These are the most extensive buildings in Ayrshire; containing Court-house, County Hall, or Assembly Room, and commodious chambers for officials connected with the Law Courts and Burgh. There are in the County Hall portraits of the late Earl of Eglinton, Lord-Lieutenant of the County, in the costume of Colonel of the Lowland Fencibles; of his Lordship's brother-in-law, the late John Hamilton of Sundrum (grandfather of the present proprietor of Sundrum), and for forty years Convener of the County; and of the late venerable Earl of Glasgow, Lord-Lieutenant of Ayrshire. In the rear, enclosed by a high wall, is the Prison, where the new system of discipline has been very successfully introduced. The buildings were finished in 1822, and cost upwards of £30,000; and they are now being enlarged by an extensive addition to the Prison.

WALLACE TOWER.

This Gothic building on High Street, seen from a considerable distance, from the summit of which a fine view is obtained, was finished in 1832. It was designed by Mr. Hamilton, and cost about £1400. It stands on the site of an old tower, taken down in 1830, of which the public records bear no account, but which has always been associated with the name of Sir William Wallace. A statue of the renowned chief, cut by Thom, the famed sculptor of "Tam o' Shanter and Souter Johnny," occupies a niche in front of the new edifice. The Scottish patriot is represented, not in warlike attitude, but in a thoughtful mood, as if musing on the wrongs of his country. The attitude and outline have been censured by some critics, and praised by others; but the workmanship has, at all hands, been held to be exquisite. The cost of the statue was 120 guineas, and the money was subscribed in a fortnight, chiefly through the exertions of Mr Auld, Doonbrae Cottage (Thom's chief patron). A figure of less pretension and rather dwarfish, cut by Mr Reid of Glasgow, was placed in a niche in the gable of the corner house, east end of Newmarket Street, in 1810, by Henry Cowan, Esq. Mr Cowan put up this statue to replace an old representation of the head of Wallace in the same situation, which had fallen into decay. This effigy was originally erected there to commemorate the sheltering of Wallace from his enemies under that roof.

THE FORT, ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, &C.

Passing from Wellington Square towards the river, the visiter casts his eye upon an old Tower to his left, in a pasture-field of 18 acres. The Tower is a venerable relict of the Burgh or Parish Church, founded in the twelfth century, and dedicated to St. John the Baptist. The church itself was built in the form of a cross; and, at the eastern end of the transept, had an elegant and richly-ornamented Gothic window. In 1560, it fell into the hands of the Reformed Clergy, of whom was the Rev. John Welsh, of much respected memory, son-in-law of John Knox, the Reformer. In 1652 Oliver Cromwell, coveting the situation of the ground around the Church, protected on the north-west by the river Doon, which then (as elsewhere explained) flowed close past it, and on the south-west by the sea, which has since greatly receded—took possession of it, turning the church into an armoury, and erecting around it a strong fortified citadel. The ground plan is in the form of a hexagon, but the figures are irregular. The main bastion, occupying the north-eastern angle, close upon the harbour, and next the town, has a commanding position, and is supposed to occupy the site of the ancient palace and castle of Ayr, built by William the Lion. The tower had originally two triangular gables, which the St. John's Lodge of Freemasons in Ayr removed, substituting the present turrets. This spacious enclosure belongs to the Marquis of Ailsa, and of late years has been advertised for sale. Some public spirited individuals have suggested the idea of purchasing it, and laying it out as public walks and gardens to ornament the town, and afford a place of recreation and amusement for the inhabitants; and it has been thought that the expense of its cultivation might be defrayed by the sale of annual tickets for families, and by a small charge for admission to Promenades, Soirees, and Musical Entertainments, in the summer evenings.

BURGH OR PARISH CHURCH OF AYR.

Cromwell, though not very ceremonious in the acquisition of St. John's Church and grounds, made some compensation to the Burgh in money (£150), which aided in the erection of the present Old Church of Ayr, on the site of the Franciscan monastery, founded by the Bishop of St. Andrews; the only trace of which, at the present day, is in the name of a spring called the Friars' Well, which issues from the wall of the Old Churchyard, into the river Ayr. The galleries, and for the most part the seats of the Old Church, are those placed in it when originally erected in 1654; but it has been recently repaired, heated with water pipes, lighted with gas, and made otherwise very comfortable. The floor is yet, however, below the level of the graves outside.

Ayr has been a collegiate charge since the days of Queen Mary; and on its junction with Alloway, about the end of the 17th century, the stipend, £32, was divided equally between the two ministers of Ayr. The stipend of the first charge, held by the Rev. Dr. Auld, is $8\frac{1}{2}$ chalders, half meal and half bere, and one chaldar for Communion Elements, with the half of the £32 from Alloway, already mentioned, and the half of the interest of £1,000 bequeathed to the two Ayr ministers, by John Fergusson, Esq., of Doonholm. To this charge is also attached a handsome manse with glebe, situate in the suburbs, on the Dalmellington road.

NEW CHURCH.

The church of the second charge—a modern building, is situate close to the entrance to the Fort. The Rev. Alexander Cuthill, minister of the second charge, accepted as his assistant and successor, the Rev. William Shaw, formerly in Bonhill, whose emoluments are secured by arrangement entered into between the Rev. Mr Cuthill and the Patrons, the Magistrates, and Kirk Session. The stipend of the second minister consists partly of the old stipend of the second charge—of a sum from the Exchequer—of an allowance from the Magistrates for extra service—of the half of the interest of Mr Fergusson's donation of £1,000, and of £46 13s 4d in lieu of a manse and glebe.

MONASTERIES.

Besides the Monastery already alluded to, of the Order of St. Francis, or Grey Friars, founded by the inhabitants of Ayr, in 1472, on the site of which the Old Church of Ayr stands, there was, in the same vicinity, near Mill Street, a Monastery of Dominicans, or Black Friars, the first of that order established in Scotland, founded by the Bishop of St. Andrews, in 1230. The charter granted by Alexander II. was dated at Forfar, in 1242, and confirmed by Robert Bruce at Girvan, in the 33d year of his reign. The ruins of both these religious establishments have now disappeared.

MALT CROSS.

The Malt Cross of Ayr, where all proclamations were made stood opposite Dr. Whiteside's property, where New-Bridge Street meets High Street. It was removed when the New Bridge was built in 1778. Coins of Charles II., found at its base, indicate its having been erected during his reign. Here Maggie Osburne, "the Ayrshire Witch"—a young woman said to have possessed considerable personal charms, and some property, and who lived in that house, now No. 76, High Street, nearly opposite the Fish Cross, suffered about the end of the 16th century. Being eccentric, she was suspected to be in league with Satan—chiefly in reference to having built her house in a very expeditious manner—and was tried, condemned, and burned at the Stake, on a mound at the west end of the Town's Low Green. This, fortunately, was the last scene of the kind witnessed in Scotland. In England the penal statutes against witchcraft were not abrogated by the legislature till the middle of the 18th century, about the year 1752; and it is a singular coincidence, that the last victim in England was also a female, named "Osbourne;" an aged pauper, who was killed by a mob in Staffordshire, in 1750. Her husband narrowly escaped with his life. Barrington estimates the number of persons put to death in England on the charge of witchcraft, at 30,000!

HARBOUR OF AYR.

The Harbour of Ayr, like all others formed at the mouths of rivers, is not easily kept deep, from the alluvial matter brought down during the floods, and deposited at its bar. This draw-back has been, in great part, removed within the last few years, by walls on either side, a breakwater thrown across the north side of the river, and the operations of a Steam Dredge, and Diving Bell. The chief works at the Harbour are Messrs Sloan and Gemmell's Patent Slip and Building Yard, on the north side, and Mr Paton's Patent Saw Mills, Bone Mill, and Stone Sawing Apparatus, &c., on the south. A very suitable new Lighthouse has lately been erected, on the North side of the river, which, from its height and the brilliancy of its gas-lights, affords a certain guide to mariners. From the point of the South Pier, there is a fine view of the Bay of Ayr, stretching from the Kyles of Bute to the Heads of Ayr; and in very clear weather the north-east coast of Ireland may be discerned.

NEWTON AND WALLACETOWN

ARE divided from the town of Ayr proper, by the river Ayr. The latest burgh charters of Newton bear date 1595 and 1600, but refer to older charters that have not been preserved. Tradition assigns the original charter to the year 1315, as having been then granted by King Robert the Bruce. The land was originally divided equally among 48 freemen (10 or 12 acres each), subject to periodical allotment every eleven, and later, every seven years; but, in January 1829, the holdings were declared by agreement to be 999 years, so as to encourage the improvement of the land. Newton has a jurisdiction separate from that of Ayr.

Wallacetown, though a quoad sacra parish, is in the parish of St. Evox. It is not embraced within the jurisdiction of either Ayr or Newton, and has no local magistrates or police. A large proportion of the population are coal miners or weavers. Independent of its anomalous position, its buildings have been much improved of late, particularly fronting the river Ayr.

THE PARISH OF ST. EVOX,

Which includes Wallacetown, lies NE. of Ayr. Population—In 1831, 5348; 1841, 6055; 1851, 7146. Increase since 1831, 1798. Extent—The parish contains 5000 acres, and is five miles long, and three broad. Boundaries—It is bounded on the south by the river Ayr; and on the east, north, and west, by the parishes of Tarbolton, Monkton, and Newton. Character—In 1831, the agricultural population was 1071, Wallacetown and Content containing 4277 souls. The inhabitants of the two latter places, and of Whitletts, belong chiefly to the poorer class of Irish settlers, and are employed as colliers, labourers, and weavers by Glasgow and Paisley houses. There are also a number of artisans, carters, publicans, and shop-keepers, with an undue proportion of strangers from Ireland, who keep lodging-houses, or have means of subsistence equally precarious. Husbandry is in a flourishing state, and the land is in possession of an intelligent and industrious tenantry. There are several excellent freestone quarries in the parish. Markets, &c.—Ayr serves as a convenient market town, whose Fairs are common to Newton and St. Evox parishes.

ARDROSSAN & SALTCOATS.

[Ardrossan is 18 miles north-west of Ayr, and 14 west of Kilmarnock.]

ARDROSSAN lies 12 miles south of Largs ; 2 miles SE. of Stevenston ; and $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles N.E. of West Kilbride. The parish includes the two sea-ports of Ardrossan and Saltcoats. Population—In 1831, 3595 ; 1841, 4947 ; 1851, 5439. Increase since 1831, 1844. Extent—The parish contains about 11 square miles ; its length is about 6 miles, its breadth about 4. Boundaries—It is bounded on the south-west, by the Firth of Clyde ; on the north-east, by Dalry ; on the east, by Stevenston and Kilwinning ; and on the north-west, by West Kilbride. Character—Saltcoats is chiefly inhabited by sailors, fishers, and weavers, and many of the females are employed in the sowing of muslin. The ship-building carried on in Ardrossan gives employment to a large number of the inhabitants ; and the town is much frequented for sea-bathing by the gentry of Glasgow and Edinburgh, and other places. Markets, &c.—Three fairs are held in the parish annually : one in Saltcoats on the last Thursday of May, for cattle, pigs, &c. ; the other two in Ardrossan—one of them in July, the other on the fourth Thursday of November.

AUCHINLECK.

[Distant 15 miles from Ayr, and 14 from Kilmarnock.—Post-town Cumnock.]

AUCHINLECK lies 5 miles S.E. from Mauchline; $1\frac{1}{4}$ N.W. from Cumnock; and 10 N.W. from Muirkirk. Population.—In 1831, 1662; 1841, 1659; 1851, 3697. Increase since 1831, 2035. Extent.—The parish contains 23,500 acres; it is 16 miles long, and on an average two miles in breadth. Boundaries.—It is bounded on the north by Mauchline, Sorn, and Muirkirk; on the east by Muirkirk and Crawfordjohn; on the south by Kirkconnell, New Cumnock, and Old Cumnock; and on the west by Ochiltree. Character.—The population are partly supported by agriculture; not a few are engaged in handloom weaving; while the increase in the population is chiefly attributable to the extension of mining operations in the district. Markets, &c.—Kilmarnock, 14 miles distant, is the nearest town. The only fair of consequence held in the village is the Lamb Fair, which takes place on the last Tuesday of August.

[Beith Village—distant from Ayr 22 miles, and from Kilmarnock 14 miles.]

BERTH lies 4 miles from Lochwinnoch; 3 miles from Kilbirnie; 6 miles from Dunlop; and 14 miles from Kilmarnock. Population—In 1831, 5113; 1841, 5795; 1851, 6384. Increase since 1831, 1271. Extent—Its greatest length is 4 miles, and the parish contains upwards of 11,000 acres, Scotch. Boundaries—It is bounded on the north by Lochwinnoch; on the east by Neilston and Dunlop; on the south by Kilwinning and Dalry; and on the west by Kilbirnie Loch. Character—The inhabitants of the town of Beith are chiefly weavers; there are a number of miners; many are engaged in the thread manufactory; and the trades usually found in a country town employ a number more. A considerable amount of business takes place in Beith. Markets, &c.—A weekly market is held in Beith, on Friday. A fair is held on the 18th August, o.s., the festival of St. Inan. It is vulgarly called “Tenant’s Day.” The other fairs are New-year’s-day Friday, Candlemas Friday, May Cow Fair, and Martinmas Friday—all of which are held on the first Fridays of January, February, May, and November, o.s.

DALRY.

[Dalry village distant $18\frac{1}{4}$ miles from Ayr, and 12 miles from Kilmarnock.]

DALRY lies 5 miles to the south-west of Beith; and 7 miles north-west of Irvine. Population—In 1831, 3739; 1841, 4791; 1851, 8852. Increase since 1831, 5113. Extent—The parish contains 29 square miles; is 10 miles in length, and varies from 3 to 8 in breadth. Boundaries.—It is bounded on the east by Beith; on the south and south-west by Kilwinning and Ardrossan; on the west and north-west by West Kilbride and Largs; and on the north and north-east by Kilbirnie. Character—The greater part of the population are engaged in mining, and at the iron-works; weaving is prosecuted by a goodly number of the native population, and a considerable amount of general business is transacted in the town of Dalry. A large proportion of the population are Irish. The Dairy forms the chief feature in the husbandry, and nearly two-thirds of the arable land is in pasture. Markets, &c.—There are six annual fairs—the chief one is held on the last of July, St. Margaret's day.

DUNDONALD.

[Dundonald village, distant 10 miles from Ayr, and 5 miles from Kilmarnock.]

DUNDONALD lies 4 miles from Troon; $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles from Symington; and 5 miles from Irvine. Population—In 1831, 5579; 1841, 6716; 1851, 6901. Increase since 1831, 1322. Extent—The extreme length of the parish is about 7 miles. Boundaries—Dundonald is bounded on the south-west by the Firth of Clyde; on the north by the river Irvine, separating it from Irvine, Dreghorn, and Kilmaurs; on the south-east it is bounded by the Irvine, which divides it from Riccarton; and by Symington and Monkton on the south. Character—The village of Troon, in this parish, is the scene of considerable shipping; and to its extension is the increase in the population chiefly attributable. Fullarton (or Halfway) is likewise in the parish, but it is conjoined to the parliamentary burgh of Irvine. The village of Dundonald is wholly occupied by an agricultural population. Markets, &c.—Kilmarnock is the nearest market town. No fairs are held within the parish, except an annual fair, which takes place in May.

GALSTON.

[Galston Village, distant 15 miles from Ayr, and 5 from Kilmarnock.]

GALSTON lies on the banks of the river Irvine, $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles to the west of Newmilns. Population—In 1831, 3655; 1841, 4334; 1851, 4392. Increase since 1831, 737. Extent—The parish contains about 23 square miles; its greatest length is 13 miles, and its breadth about $4\frac{1}{2}$. Boundaries—It is bounded on the east by the river Avon; on the north by the river Irvine, which separates it from Loudoun and Kilmarnock; on the west by Cessnock Water, which divides it from Riccarton and Craigie; and on the south, by Mauchline and Sorn. Character—In the villages the population are engaged in handloom weaving for Glasgow and Paisley houses. There are at least 10,000 acres of arable land in the parish, which employ a pretty large number of agricultural labourers. There is a paper mill in the parish, and a variety of saw, corn, and flax mills. Markets, &c.—Four fairs are annually held in Galston—the two most frequented are held, the one on the third Thursday of April, the other on the first Thursday of December.

GIRVAN.

[Girvan, distant from Ayr 21 miles; from Kilmarnock, 33 miles.]

GIRVAN lies on the sea-coast of Carrick, 6 miles from Dailly, and 13 miles from Ballantrae. Population—In 1831, 6430; 1841, 7424; 1851, 8569. Increase since 1831, 2139. Extent—The parish contains 19,000 acres, or 36 square miles. The mean breadth is 4 miles, and its breadth varies from 2 to 7 miles. Boundaries—It is bounded on the east by Dailly and Barr; on the south by Colmonell; on the west by the sea; and on the north by Kirkoswald. Character—The population are chiefly employed at hand-loom weaving, and the great increase in the census returns is chiefly attributed to the influx of Irish weavers. The land is well cultivated; there is a large and steadily increasing agricultural population; and a considerable amount of general business is transacted in the town. A number of people are connected with the shipping, and fishing is prosecuted to a small extent. Markets. &c.—April, cattle, &c., last Monday; October, cattle, &c., last Monday.

IRVINE.

[Irvine—Town distant 12 miles from Ayr, and 7 miles from Kilmarnock.]

IRVINE, which is a Royal Burgh, lies 3 miles from Kilwinning, which bounds it on the west; 7 miles north-west of Kilmarnock; and 12 miles north of Ayr. Boundaries—On the east and south-east it is divided from the parish of Dreghorn by the river Annick; on the west it is bounded by the Garnock, which divides it from Kilwinning; on the south by the river Irvine, which separates it from Dundonald parish; and on the north by the parish of Stewarton. Extent—The land in the parish of Irvine extends to 2914 acres of arable, and 3673 acres of wood. The parish is upwards of 4 miles in length, and where its width is greatest it is nearly two miles broad. Population—In 1831, 5200; 1841, 5214; 1851, 5665. Increase since 1831, 465. Character—Agriculture is prosecuted in the parish, and upwards of a hundred of the population, male and female, are engaged in the cultivation of the soil. The townspeople, including the inhabitants of Fullarton (which is joined with Irvine in the Parliamentary Burgh), are chiefly employed in handloom weaving—the work being supplied to a great extent by Glasgow and Paisley houses. The females are principally occupied in hand-sewing. Many of the inhabitants of Irvine are people who have retired from business, or from the naval and military services. Being the capital of a rich agricultural district, and itself the most ancient of the Western ports, it is the seat of considerable business. The Academy has earned a well merited celebrity as an educational institution, and the teachers are, to a certain extent, salaried from the funds of the burgh. This forms one of the inducements for respectable families from a distance settling down in the locality. Markets, &c.—The following fairs are held in Irvine:—January, horses, 1st Wednesday; May, cattle, 1st Tuesday; July, horses and cattle, Wednesday before Ayr; August, lint and wool, 3d Monday—horses, Wednesday after.

KILBIRNIE.

[Kilbirnie village—distant 20 miles from Ayr, and 15 miles from Kilmarnock.]

KILBIRNIE lies 3 miles from Beith; 3 miles from Dalry; and 15 miles from Kilmarnock. Population—In 1831, 1541; 1841, 2631; 1851, 5483. Increase since 1831, 3942. Extent—Kilbirnie is between 7 and 8 miles in length, and of the medium breadth of $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles. It contains 17 square miles, or 8,576 Scotch acres. Boundaries—It is bounded on the north and east by Lochwinnoch and Beith; on the north-west by Largs; and on the south and west by Dalry. Character—The increase in the population has arisen from the establishment of a spinning power-loom manufactory, and a mill for spinning flax, which employ many of the villagers. Miners are now pretty numerous, and there is likewise a number of handloom weavers. Markets, &c.—Much of the business of the parish is transacted in Beith, which is the post-town, and the seat of the monthly Justice of Peace Court.

KILMARNOCK.

(Kilmarnock—distant 12 miles from Ayr.)

KILMARNOCK is situated on the banks of the water of the same name, a short distance above its union with the river Irvine. It is the most populous and most rapidly-increasing town in Ayrshire. The name is derived from St. Mernock or Marnock, who lived about the beginning of the fourth century, but of whom nothing is known. It does not appear in public documents till the fourteenth century, when it is mentioned in connexion with the Boyds of Dean : and even then Kilmarnock appears to have been a place of little note, the name being applied apparently to a tract of land rather than to a particular place. In fact, Kilmarnock was a mere hamlet in the days of James VI., its people entirely dependent upon their feudal superiors—the lords of the neighbouring Dean Castle. The favourable situation of the town, and the rich resources of the district, combined to increase its importance. In 1591, James VI. constituted Kilmarnock a free burgh of barony, Charles II. confirming the constitution in 1672. In earlier times the population were principally employed in manufacturing “braid bonnets” and “cowls.” This trade flourished till the middle of the eighteenth century, when the weaving of carpets became the chief business of the place. The trades of the town at this time received several accessions, and the busy village became busier than ever. The extinction of the feudal domination of the Boyds, by whom the burgh had been kept in subjection, and its sources of wealth contracted; the formation of good roads; and the Union, produced a vast and acceptable change. The opening of the present century saw many improvements effected in Kilmarnock. Calico printing was introduced. Handloom weaving assumed a more prominent position among the local trades. Greater facilities of conveyance did much to extend the general business of the town. A tramway was formed to the seaport of Troon—the first of the kind constructed in Scotland; new buildings were erected; the streets, formerly narrow, were widened—famed for their irregularity in former days, they were made more uniform—and otherwise extended and improved. The breadth of the town scarcely corresponds with its length; nevertheless it has a fine appearance, favoured by its position in a fertile basin, sheltered by softly-ascending uplands. Kilmarnock claims to be the commercial capital of the county, and is to Ayr what Glasgow is to Edinburgh—the one the seat of fashion, learning, and law; the other the busy scene of manufactures and commercial traffic. Kilmarnock and its trade have steadily increased of late years. In 1840 it was connected by railway with Glasgow, Paisley, and the harbours on the West coast. During the last ten years, we have witnessed the Iron Way intersecting the entire district—passing up the fertile valley of the Irvine, studded with busy villages; prosecuting its course to the classic braes of the Ayr and Lugar; penetrating the rich mineral districts around Cumnock and Muirkirk; supplanting the antiquated tramway to Troon; extending the Glasgow and South-Western to Carlisle; and thus making Kilmarnock one of the chief links in the chain connecting the West Country with England. Kilmarnock is improving, too, in her educational, musical, and literary institutions.

Population of Kilmarnock in 1792—6776

1831—18,093

1841—19,956

1851—21,281

This burgh, with Rutherglen, Port-Glasgow, and Dumbarton, returns one member to Parliament. Kilmarnock is the returning Burgh.

COUNTY VOTER NOT RESIDENT IN AYRSHIRE.

Craufurd, John Reginald Houison (c), yr. of Craufurdland

RICCARTON.

[Riccarton village—distant 11 miles from Ayr, and 1 mile from Kilmarnock.]

RICCARTON is divided from the town of Kilmarnock by the river Irvine. Population—In 1831, 2499; 1841, 3226; 1851, 4582. Increase since 1831, 2083. Extent—The length of the parish, from east to west, is about 8 miles, and its greatest breadth about 3 miles. Boundaries—It is bounded on the north by the river Irvine, which separates it from Kilmarnock; on the south by Craigie, Mauchline, and Galston; on the east by Galston; and on the west by Symington and Dundonald. Character—In 1831, with a population of 2499, 193 males were engaged in agriculture, and 283 in handicrafts and in retail trade. The parish is rich in coal, and to the opening of new pits and iron-works may be attributed the increase in the population. The Caprington coal is in great repute for household use. There are two villages besides Riccarton in the parish—viz., Hurlford and Sornhill. The recently-established ironworks of the Portland Company at Hurlford employ a great number of the town population. Markets, &c.—Kilmarnock is an excellent market for the agricultural produce of the parish.

L A R G S .

[Largs village—distant 31½ miles from Ayr, and 27 miles from Kilmarnock.]

LARGS lies 14 miles from Greenock ; 9 miles from Kilbirnie ; 12 miles from Ardrossan ; and 8 miles from West Kilbride. Population—In 1831, 2848 ; 1841, 4044 ; 1851, 3717. Increase since 1831, 869. Extent—The parish contains about 37¾ square miles, or 24,160 acres. Boundaries—It is bounded on the north by Innerkip and Greenock ; on the east by Kilmalcolm, Lochwinnoch, and Kilbirnie ; on the south by Dalry and West Kilbride ; and on the west by the Frith of Clyde. Character—Weaving is the chief occupation of the inhabitants of Largs. A goodly number are employed in sea fishing ; but a large proportion of the residents are persons in comfortable circumstances, and following no occupation. The place is much frequented by fashionable visitors in the summer months, and communication with Glasgow is regularly maintained throughout the year, first-class steam-boats plying in the summer months five times a-day. Markets, &c.—A fair is held on the second Tuesday of June, o.s. called “Comb’s-day,” or St. Columba’s-day’s fair. It is of some importance as a market for young cattle.

LOUDOUN.

[Newmilns village—distant 18 miles from Ayr, and 7 from Kilmarnock.]

LOUDOUN lies on the boundary between Ayr and Lanarkshire. The town of Newmilns (in the parish) lies 1 mile from Darvel; 14 miles from Strathaven; 2 miles from Galston; and 7 miles from Kilmarnock. Population—In 1831, 3959; 1841, 4446; 1851, 4720. Increase since 1831, 761. Extent—The extent of the parish from east to west is about 9 miles, and its greatest breadth is 7. Boundaries—It is bounded on the west, north-west, and north by Kilmarnock, Fenwick, and Eaglesham; the Irvine Water separates it from Avondale and Galston. Character—The population of Newmilns are almost entirely hand-loom weavers, and are furnished with employment by the Glasgow and Paisley houses. The people residing in the village of Darvel are likewise engaged almost exclusively at the loom. Wool-spinning is also carried on to a partial extent in the parish. Markets, &c.—There is a fair held annually at Newmilns on the third Wednesday of May; one on the fourth Thursday of August; one for cattle on the first Wednesday of September; and another on the fourth Wednesday of October.

MAUCHLINE.

(Mauchline village—distant 11 miles from Ayr, and 8½ from Kilmarnock.)

MAUCHLINE is situated on the river Ayr, and lies 5 miles to the E.S.E. of Tarbolton, and 4 miles from Sorn. Population—In 1831, 2232 ; 1841, 2156 ; 1851, 2471. Increase since 1831, 239. Extent—The parish comprises 24 square miles, is 8 miles in extent, and from 2 to 4 in breadth. Boundaries—It is bounded on the north by Craigie and Galston ; on the east by Sorn ; on the south by Auchinleck and Ochiltree ; and on the west by Stair and Tarbolton. Character—Nearly the whole parish is arable, and the population is chiefly agricultural. There are three box-manufactories in Mauchline Village, and a woollen mill at the clachan of Haugh. Mauchline serves as the capital, so to speak, of a large rural district ; hence much business is done in the place. Markets, &c—There are seven fairs in the town, chiefly for the sale of cattle.

MAYBOLE.

[Maybole—distant 9 miles from Ayr, and 21 miles from Kilmarnock.]

MAYBOLE lies 12 miles from Girvan ; 5 miles from Dalrymple ; 4½ miles from Kirkoswald ; and 9 miles from Ayr. Population—In 1831, 6,400 ; 1841, 7,027 ; 1851, 7,615. Increase, since 1831, 1,215. Extent—The parish contains about 34 square miles ; its length is 9 miles, and its breadth 5. Boundaries—It is bounded on the north and east by the river Doon, which divides it from Ayr and Dalrymple ; on the east and south by Kirkmichael and Girvan Water ; and on the west by Kirkoswald and the Firth of Clyde. Character—In 1837, 4000 of the population resided in the town, and the remaining 2,400 in the landward part of the parish. The town population was then, and is still, engaged in handloom weaving. At Dunure, there is a small sea-fishing establishment. Markets, &c.—Maybole is a market town : the market is held on Thursday. There are four fairs held annually—the Candlemas, Beltane, Lammas, and Hallow fairs, now almost entirely limited to the hiring of servants.

MONKTON.

[Monkton village—distant 4 miles from Ayr, and 8 miles from Kilmarnock.]

MONKTON and Prestwick lie on the Ayr and Kilmarnock road—the former 4 miles to the north of the county town, and the latter $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles. Population—In 1831, 1807; 1841, 1933; 1851, 1960. Increase since 1831, 153. Extent—The parish contains 9 or 10 square miles, and is $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles long, and $3\frac{1}{2}$ broad. Boundaries—It is bounded on the north and north-east by Dundonald, Symington, and Craigie; on the east, by Tarbolton and St. Quivox; on the south and south-east, by St. Quivox and Newton; and on the west by the Firth of Clyde. Character—There are three villages in the parish—Monkton, Prestwick, and New Prestwick. The first is inhabited chiefly by an agricultural population; Prestwick by weavers; and the last-mentioned by miners and weavers. There are about 1800 Scotch acres in tillage; the remaining 570 serve for pasture. Husbandry is in an efficient state in the parish. Markets, &c.—Ayr is the nearest market town.

[Sorn village—distant 15 miles from Ayr, and 13 miles from Kilmarnock.]

SORN village lies on the river Ayr, 2 miles to the E. of Catrine. Population—In 1831, 4253; 1841, 4054; 1851, 4174. Decrease sine 1831, 79. Extent—The parish is nearly a square, whose side is about $6\frac{1}{2}$ miles. Boundaries—It is bounded on the east by Muirkirk parish; on the west by Mauchline; on the north by Galston; and on the south by Auchinleck. Character—The inhabitants of the village of Sorn are chiefly dependent on agriculture, but a large proportion of the population, included in Catrine village, are engaged in the cotton manufactory and the bleachfield. A great many females are employed in the mills, and some are hand-sewers. There are also a number of hand-loom weavers in the parish. Markets, &c.—There are no markets, but two fairs are held in Sorn annually—one on the second of March, o.s., and the other on the first Monday of November, o.s.

IMPROVED DRESSING CASES,

WITH STERLING SILVER FITTINGS, MANUFACTURED
ON THE PREMISES, 28 BUCHANAN STREET, GLASGOW,

FROM FIVE TO FIFTY GUINEAS EACH.

THE abundant encouragement awarded to S. WOOLFELD in the manufacture of Silver Fitted Dressing Cases has induced him to augment his Stock to an extent quite unsurpassed, except in a few of the West End shops of London, (where extravagant prices are necessarily exacted.) Established as a Maker of these articles for nearly half a century, his reputation has not been gained without warrant, for each successive year has exhibited the improvement which naturally comes from enlarged experience and stability of position, and his Dressing Cases are now as perfect specimens of their class as it is within the power of human industry to accomplish. Their distinguishing characteristic is great strength and solidity — not designed for mere appearance, but for practical utility and lasting durability. As travelling necessities they are incontestibly superior to all others, the fittings being so arranged and classified that any desired article is immediately available, while they are furnished to an extent that meets every possible exigency. An additional recommendation is their impregnable locks, and improved morticed partitions, affording protection and security from breakage; and all springs and intricate mechanism are carefully avoided, being always liable to damage by change of climate, &c.

In the all important matter of price, S. Woolfield's Dressing Cases, being economically manufactured in his own Workshops, will naturally suggest a condition both favourable to excellence and cheapness. For MARRIAGE PRESENTS especially, they are an elegant and becoming gift; the great variety always in Stock affording almost unlimited choice at all prices, from Five to Fifty Guineas.

* Dressing Cases, Writing Desks, and Work Boxes repaired, new lined, modernized, and made useful, at very moderate prices.*

In addition to the very superior assortment of DRESSING CASES, WORK-BOXES, WRITING-DESKS, WORK-TABLES, TEA-CHESTS, and BAGATELLE BOARDS, manufactured on his own Premises, S. Woolfield imports largely from the great Continental manufactories every meritorious production in BOHEMIAN GLASS ORNAMENTS, ITALIAN ALABASTER, FRENCH CHINA and CLOCKS, BERLIN IRON and BRONZES; and his Stock of PAPIER MACHE and GENERAL FANCY GOODS is at all times unsurpassed out of the metropolis.

DR. CHAMBERS' PILLS FOR THE HEAD.

THESE celebrated Pills remove Nervousness, Headache, Melancholy, Loss of Memory, Swimming in the Head, Noise in the Ears, Dizziness in the Eyes, Trembling, Lowness of Spirits, Inactivity, Rheumatic Affections, Loss of Appetite, Symptoms of Apoplexy, &c.; also Invigorate the System, Purify the Blood, and produce a Smoothness to the Skin.

"Sold in Boxes at 1s 6d, 2s 9d, and 5s each. By sending a letter enclosing the amount, either in money or postage stamps, to R. J. CHAMBERS, 6, Great Suffolk Street, Boro', London, the Pills will be sent you by post, free."

The utility of these Pills is fully testified by thousands who have been benefited by their aid. Among the numerous testimonials received, the following short extracts are given by permission:

SIR ROBERT PEEL,—Tamworth, August 17, 1845.—After a long debate I have found great relief from your Pills for the Head.

MR. GEORGE HOLMES,—Dale Street, Liverpool, March 6, 1849.—My wife suffered many years with noise in the ears, which your Pills have removed.

REV. B. CARTER,—Portland Place, London, December 14, 1847.—In accordance with your request, I herewith permit you to use my name as an approver of your Pills; they are really good.

LOUIS NAPOLEON BUONAPARTE,—Paris, January 5, 1850.—I have given your Pills a fair trial, and find they bear out your assertions, as I suffered much in my head.

GENERAL TAYLOR,—New-York, May 4, 1847.—In gratitude I give you permission to publish my perfect approval of your Pills for the Head, and would thank you to send me (per next ship) a packet of two dozen boxes, large size.

REV. GEORGE FARRAN,—Princess Street, Edinburgh, Feb. 18, 1845.—Through reading one of your Advertisements I was induced to purchase a box of your Pills for the Head, which, I am happy to inform you, cured me of the most miserable melancholy feelings, which I had endured for eight or nine years. I feel now quite another man; but, least I should have a return of it, I would thank you to send me two boxes, that I may be prepared should I be again attacked. You are quite at liberty to use this humble testimony, if of any service, in any way you think proper, as I feel grateful for the service you have done me.

CONSTITUTION HORSE BALLS.

TO Sportsmen, Agriculturists, Postmasters, and all Proprietors of Horses, these Balls are particularly recommended in all cases of swelled legs, cracked heels, loss of appetite, and vital energy; for Coughs, Colds, Fever, or Inflammation, they are the best Medicine that can be exhibited. Moreover, their operation, though effectual, is so mild that they require no alteration of diet; and if given with a bran mash on Saturday night, will not interfere with the ensuing week's regular work.

N E A T C A T T L E .

The Constitution Balls are strongly recommended by many highly respectable gentlemen (see Testimonials), for Cows and Oxen, as a most valuable medicine in cases of Hove or Blown, Scouring or turning out to grass, or from bad food, Gargate, Hide Bound, Loss of Appetite, Staring Coat, Distemper, Epidemic, or Influenza. Bullocks fat much faster by occasionally giving a Ball.

PREPARED ONLY BY

FRANCIS CUPISS, M. R. V. C.,

Author of the "Prize Essay on the Disease of the Liver of the Horse," Diss, Norfolk; and sold by all respectable Medicine Venders in Town and Country, in Packets, six Balls each, 3s. 6d. per packet, with a wrapper giving full directions for the use of the Ball, and treatment of the Horse whilst taking them. Also, a Pamphlet of Testimonials from many gentlemen who have used the Balls in various complaints.

Any Gentleman using the Balls may consult the Proprietor gratuitously, either personally, or by letter, post-paid.

THIS GREASE, for Carts, Railway and Mining Wagons, &c., &c., is found to be superior to all hitherto discovered. It combines the blandness of OIL with the free, greasy nature of TALLOW, keeps the Axles always cool and clean, and remains upon them, without requiring fresh application, DOUBLE THE TIME OF ANY GREASE KNOWN. The great economy and advantage arising from its use will at once be experienced, as a single trial is sufficient to exhibit a saving to the consumer of at least 50 per cent., as compared with any other whatever. WOOLLEY'S PECTORAL CANDY.

THESE TABLETS are as convenient and efficacious a remedy as can be employed for the removal of coughs. During the last fifteen years they have enjoyed a rapidly increasing sale, so that they now possess a wide celebrity. To those who are afflicted with Difficulty of Breathing, or a redundancy of phlegm, they give speedy relief, by promoting free expectoration. For Aged Persons, they are almost indispensable; and no one, whose lungs are in the least degree susceptible of cold, ought to be without them. They give immediate and permanent relief in cases of cough, and where there is no physical disorganization, will speedily effect a cure.

AFFECTIONS OF THE THROAT.

Many persons suffer much from irritation, caused in the mucous membrane of the trachea and air cells of the lungs by the inhaling of foggy, cold, or damp atmospheres. These membranes are far more tender and sensitive in some persons than in others. Hence, under certain variations from heat, cold, or on the approach of even a slight change in the outward air, a tickling, distressing cough, and difficult respiration are sure to ensue; and, if neglected, too often prove fatal. To any person so affected, WOOLLEY'S PECTORAL CANDY, taken for a short time, will prove of eminent service, by strengthening the lungs to resist the effect of sudden changes, by blunting the acrimony of the humours, and by allaying the painful irritation which produces that distressing effort familiarly called coughing,

*Woolley's Pectoral Candy—continued.HOARSENESS.

This unpleasant, painful, and distressing result of catching cold, may, at any time, be removed by taking a few tablets of WOOLLEY'S PECTORAL CANDY. Hence, singers and public speakers will find them of singular advantage.

ASTHMA.

This distressing disease of the lungs may be greatly mitigated in its effects by WOOLLEY'S PECTORAL CANDY, while in most cases complete and permanent cures are (very often quickly) produced. In cases of moist Asthma, this candy will at once prevent that soreness which is the result of constant expectoration; and in dry or nervous Asthma, it promotes that degree of expectoration by which the painful coughing may be greatly prevented.

TO THE PUBLIC IN GENERAL.

But few persons are aware of the very great importance of checking a cough in its first stage. That which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon preys upon the lungs; acrid humours increase, and powerful medicines fail to relieve the cough. Here the value of the Pectoral Candy is most apparent. By the use of a few of these convenient tablets, a check is at once given to the progress of the disease. The irritation being allayed by their soothing, sedative, and healing influence, and free expectoration being promoted, the various membranes speedily resume their usual tone, and those fatal diseases, of which a slight cough is but too often the forerunner, may be averted. No one ought to be without a remedy that is at once convenient, agreeable, and efficacious, but at the same time perfectly innocent. Another important principle in this candy is, that it may be taken without any fear of disordering the stomach; on the contrary, it operates as a tonic, and greatly strengthens the digestive organs.

Sold in Boxes at 1s. 1½d., and 2s. 9d. each, with full directions for use enclosed. There is a great advantage in buying the large Boxes.

CAUTION.—A counterfeit always presupposes a genuine article. Never mind whether they be similar in shape and colour or not, do not be persuaded to purchase any other than the genuine—"WOOLLEY'S PECTORAL CANDY," sold by all Chemists in the kingdom.

PREPARED ONLY, AND SOLD WHOLESALE, RETAIL, AND FOR EXPORTATION, BY THE PROPRIETOR,

MILNERS'

PATENT HOLDFAST AND FIRE-RESISTING BOOK SAFES AND DEED BOXES.

AYR ADVERTISER OFFICE, AYR.

MILNERS' HOLDFAST AND FIRE-RESISTING GOVERNMENT SAFES AND CLOSETS, for Books, Title Deeds, Cash, Plate, &c., the strongest safeguards against fire and robbery in the world; outer plates of bodies, quarter to half inch, and of doors half inch thick, solid wrought Iron, strongly dovetailed together; with impregnable Locks, Bolts, and back fastenings, and lined throughout with Milners' Treble Fire-resisting Chambers. (See List No. 3, in Pamphlet.)

MILNERS' DOUBLE FIRE-RESISTING CHAMBERED SAFES, CLOSETS, AND CHESTS, lighter, and one-third cheaper, than the Thief-proof "Holdfasts," but equally safe against fire. (See List No. 2, in Pamphlet.) Safes and Chests from List No. 2 and 3, are recommended for large Buildings, Mansions, Mills, Suites of Offices, Warehouses, &c.

MILNERS' ONE-CHAMBERED FIRE-RESISTING BOXES, for detached Buildings of moderate size and risk. (See List No. 1, in Pamphlet.)

'Triumphant Resistance to Robbers.

Referring to their "Holdfast Safes" (See List No. 3, page 3, in Pamphlet), THOMAS MILNER & SON have pleasure in publishing the following report, addressed to their Agents, of a night's unsuccessful labour of robbers to obtain the valuable contents of their Safe, in the use of a large sugar-house in Glasgow:—

Messrs. David Boyd & Co.

Gentlemen,—Our Milners' Safe was attempted to be broken open last night; but, notwithstanding the great and persevering violence with which the robbers have worked at the door and back of the Safe (both of which are beaten in and cut through the outer plates in numerous places), the lock and bolts remained true, and saved the contents. You may send us another Milners' Holdfast Safe, No. 6.

Glasgow, 28th Dec., 1848. JAS. RICHARDSON & CO.

In the numerous accidental Fires and experimental tests which Milners' Safes have been exposed to—every description of Safe in use—Fire-proof (so called) or otherwise, have been burnt out beside them, confirming the recommendation of the scientific and practical authorities who have tested them; and the Patentees, during seven years' active working of their patent, on a rapidly extending scale, have spared no pains nor cost in effecting improvements, by which they are enabled to pledge themselves at all times to supply the most complete and secure depositories for Books, Documents, and Valuables; including the strongest Wrought Iron Safes, Closets, and Doors in the World, lined with their unequalled Fire-resisting Chambers. Out of upwards of 20,000 of their Safes in use amongst the Manufacturing and Commercial Houses in Great Britain—the class best able to appreciate their value—numerous cases of severe trial in accidental Fires have occurred, from which Thomas Milner and Son select the following as instances, in which they are of opinion that no other Safe than their own would have preserved its contents unburnt.

Fire at Mr. J. B. Blackaller's Ship Chandlery Store, Sparling-street, Liverpool; a strong and fierce Fire; Safe most severely burnt outside; contents unsinged.

Fire at Messrs. J. & W. Walkers', the extensive builders, Birkenhead: buildings entirely gutted, everything burnt in them, including the contents of large Iron Safe and Drawers, standing beside Milners': the contents of Milners' uninjured, and in use now.

Fire at Messrs. Garniss & Co.'s, Park-lane; a very strong Fire; again the contents of Milners' Safe the only things saved on the premises.

Fire at Plimsaul Brothers, of Plymouth; a very extensive and destructive Fire; a large Iron Safe, covered with brick-work, with double Iron doors, burnt out; Milners' entirely preserving its contents.

Fire in Queen-street, Glasgow; a great number of Safes and Closets burnt out: no books saved throughout the buildings excepting Messrs. S. R. & Thomas Brown's, in Milners' Safe.

Milners, Fire-resisting Safes, Chests, and Boxes, suitable for all classes of Buildings, Impregnable Locks and Cash Boxes, at the Works, 50A and 54, Lord-street, Liverpool, and London City Depot, 47A, Moorgate-street.

Destructive Fires in Glasgow, Manchester, Lincoln's Inn, &c.

MILNERS' "HOLDEFAST" AND FIRE-RESISTING SAFES are the strongest, best, and cheapest safeguards in the world against fire, robbery, and fraud: 20,000 of them keep the books, deeds, and cash of the practical men of Liverpool, Manchester, Glasgow, &c., who know their superiority to any others. Five of them have brought their contents unscathed out of the ruins of large fires in Glasgow alone this year, where-in scores of other Safes have been burnt out. Twenty-five offices were burnt out in Lincoln's-inn in January, in one alone of which the title-deeds of thirty large landed estates were burnt, which would all have been preserved in Milners' Safes.

TESTIMONIALS

TO

WOOLLEY'S PECTORAL CANDY.

Cure of a case of Asthma of Ten Years' Standing, by "Woolley's Pectoral Candy."

Redditch, Worcestershire, March 17th, 1851.

SIR,—I have the pleasure of informing you of the cure of a sister of mine, of Asthma of ten years' duration, by your Pectoral Candy.

I am, yours truly,

JAMES DUGGINS,
Temperance Hotel.

N.B.—I could tell you of another cure; but the person said he should write to you himself. This was the person who recommended it to my sister.

Plymouth Foundry, Plymouth, Devon, March 22d, 1850.

SIR,—I think it a duty I owe to yourself and the public, to inform you of the great benefit I have derived from your Pectoral Candy. I have been troubled with a severe cough for the last seven years, and, although I have had the very best medical advice, could obtain no permanent relief until I fortunately tried your Candy; and, after taking two small boxes, I find myself free from cough. You have my permission to give publicity to this statement.

Yours, &c.,

JOHN EDMOND MARE.

To Mr Woolley.

Chatham, April 15, 1850.

DEAR SIR,—Mrs Chiseman, of Garden Street, Brompton, has been cured of a cough of four years' standing, by taking one box of your Pectoral Candy, and is desirous of expressing her gratitude, in order that others, similarly afflicted, may obtain the same benefit. Please send me three dozen of the large boxes for her brother to take out to the Mauritius with him next week. I can also add my testimony, that, from the many cases I have seen of its decided efficacy, I am persuaded it stands unrivalled as a general Cough medicine.

Yours truly,

HENRY WATTS, Chemist, Chatham.

To Mr Woolley.

MR STARLING, 16, Marsham Street, Maidstone, has been under the care of Dr. Cobb, Great St. Helen's; Dr. Addison, Chief Physician to Guy's Hospital; and Dr. Powell, Tonbridge Wells. His disease was pronounced "Ulcers on the Lungs." These eminent men told him, when he appeared to be sinking, that they could do nothing more for him. It was then he was advised, by a friend, to make trial of Woolley's Pectoral

Candy. He took the advice, and is now in the enjoyment of health, and attending to his business with energy. Mr Starling has requested the proprietor to make his case known, in order to encourage others whose cases have been pronounced hopeless, not to despair till this fine remedy has been used.

Garden Street, Brompton, April 20, 1851.

SIR,—It gives me much pleasure to be able to certify to the goodness of your valuable Pectoral Candy, for the great relief it has given to my wife. Having seen your advertisement in the "Kent Herald," I was fortunate enough to get a box of the candy; and, although my wife has been troubled with a cough these four or five years, with a tightness on the chest, and, at times, she was hardly able to breathe, strange, but true to say, your first box relieved her; and I, as well as my wife, return you our thanks for your valuable medicine.

(Signed) THOMAS CHISEMAN.
ELIZABETH CHISEMAN.

Brompton Lane, Strood, March 26, 1850.

To Mr. Woolley.—Sir,—Will you have the kindness to send me another box of your most useful, nay, invaluable Pectoral Candy. It has effected, in my case, a cure of an Asthma and Cough, which have been a heavy trouble to me for the last thirty years; for it settled on my lungs when I was recovering from the Measles when a child, and I never thought to get rid of it, having tried every remedy that could be heard of, and being reduced to despair. But, thanks to your wonderful Candy, I am now restored, and give you my deepest gratitude.

I remain, Sir, yours respectfully,

ELIZABETH BUTLER.

1, Kerbey Street, Poplar, September 30, 1851.

SIR,—I cannot speak too highly of the excellency of Woolley's Pectoral Candy. I have suffered for years with a dreadful cough and difficulty of breathing. In this distressing state I was recommended to try Woolley's Pectoral Candy, the first box of which gave me great relief, the second box completely cured me. I have recommended them to many of my friends who were similarly afflicted, who have all received the greatest relief from them.

I am, Sir, yours obliged, OCTAVIUS GLYN.

Manager—JOHN MACKENZIE.

THIS Society was established in the year 1815, upon the principle of Mutual Contribution, and thus belongs to that class of Life Assurance Institutions which is now almost universally admitted to be the best, and which is at all events the most popular.

The objection usually urged against a Society founded upon this principle is the risk attendant on its failure, from an unexpected mortality amongst the Members, in an early period of its existence. No such objection, however, can apply to a Society which has been in existence upwards of 35 years—having realised and accumulated a CAPITAL of upwards of TWO MILLIONS, and possessing upwards of 6000 Members.

This Society has been more than usually successful in its operations, and there are few establishments of the kind in the kingdom which surpass it in the number and extent of its transactions—the amount of Assurances passed during the last twelve years, having, on an average, exceeded Half a Million per annum.

The benefits of the Society are open to all classes of the community. Policies are issued for sums varying in amount from £50 to £5000.

The affairs of the Society are carefully scrutinised and examined, and its Funds and Liabilities are valued at stated intervals of seven years; the Profits ascertained at these periodical investigations are divided, and appropriated for the benefit of the Assured—not less than one-third being set aside as a Guarantee Fund, to maintain the stability of the Institution, and the remainder being divided amongst the Members entitled to participate in them.

The sum set aside as a Guarantee Fund at last period of investigation—31st December, 1845—was £204,807 : 7 : 2, and the sum divided amongst the Members was £614,422 : 1 : 6. The share of the profits falling to each Member may be applied by him in any of the following ways :—It may be taken as an addition to the original sum assured; or it may be surrendered for its present value in cash; or this value may be applied towards the reduction of the future Premiums.

A Bonus of very nearly 100 per cent:

And in the same proportion whatever the amount of Assurance.

In like manner, in the case of a party insured in the year 1830, dying after payment of the Premium due in 1850, his representatives would receive in the ratio of £1472 8s. 11d. for each £1000 insured, or

A Bonus of upwards of 47 per cent.

Additions to Policies may either be allowed to remain incorporated with the original Assurance, or their value may be received in present cash, or applied towards the reduction of the future Annual Premiums.

ASSURANCE A DUTY.

It may be felt by many, that, admitting this duty in full, their income is nevertheless insufficient to enable them to spare even the small sum necessary as an annual premium for Life Assurance. The necessities of the present are in their case so great, that they do not see how they can afford it. We believe there can be no obstacle which is apt to appear more real than this, where an income is at all limited; and yet it is easy to show that no obstacle could be more ideal. It will be readily acknowledged by everybody who has an income at all, that there must be some who have smaller incomes. Say, for instance, that a man has £400 per annum; he cannot doubt that there are some who have only £350. Now, if these persons live on £350, why may not he do so too, sparing the odd £50 as a premium for Life Assurance? In like manner, he who has £200 may live as men do who have only £175, and devote the remaining £25 to have a sum assured upon his life. And so on. It may require an effort to accomplish this; but is not the object worthy of an effort? And can any man be held as honest, or any way good, who will not make such an effort, rather than be always liable to the risk of leaving in beggary the beings whom he most cherished on earth, and for whose support he alone is responsible?—Chambers' Information for the People.

THE PREMIUMS are about a fourth lower than in the other Mutual Offices—so that the same Premium which at age 30, is charged in them for an Assurance of £1000, will secure a Policy, in this Office, for £1230.

The WHOLE PROFITS are divisible among the Assured, on a new and equitable principle, peculiarly favourable to good lives.

That principle is, that the surplus should be reserved for those Members whose Premiums, with accumulated interest, amount to the sums in their Policies, instead of being frittered away among Policies of short duration, on which there is a loss, and not a profit, to the common fund.

The share of profit may be applied in addition to the Policies, or in diminution, or extinction, of the future Premiums, at the option of the Assured.

EXAMPLE.—By this scale, a person of the Age of 30 may secure £100 at death to his survivors, for a yearly payment during his life, of £2 1s 6d only, which sum could readily be set aside for the purpose of Assurance by a saving of expenditure in other matters of only 9½d per week. At the same rate a provision of £500 may be secured by a weekly saving of 4s.

By a comparatively trifling denial in present comforts, almost every one has it thus in his power to place his family at his death in a position of independence, or, it may be, of comparative affluence.

THE BUSINESS OF THIS ASSOCIATION embraces ASSURANCES on LIVES and SURVIVORSHIPS, for the whole term of life or for limited periods; ANNUITIES, ENDOWMENTS, and generally every description of risk contingent on the duration of human life.

PROGRESS OF THE BUSINESS.

The BOARD of DIRECTORS in SCOTLAND refer with much gratification to the increasing prosperity of the Association, and to the large amount of business transacted during the past year, as affording unquestionable evidences of public favour and confidence.

The new Assurances effected during the year 1850, considerably exceeded the sum of TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS, producing in NEW PREMIUMS upwards of NINE THOUSAND POUNDS; the Annual Income during the same period, exclusive of Annuity Purchase Money, amounted to FIFTY-TWO THOUSAND THREE HUNDRED POUNDS, the Funds Invested to upwards of a QUARTER OF A MILLION, and the Subsisting Assurances to ONE MILLION ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY THOUSAND POUNDS.

THE POLICIES

of the Association are effectually secured by a protecting Capital of ONE MILLION Sterling, fully subscribed by a numerous and wealthy body of Proprietors, and thus present a most advantageous mode of Investment for Family Provision, with entire exemption from responsibility.

THE PREMIUMS

may be paid Yearly, Half Yearly, Quarterly, for a limited term of Years, or in a Single Payment—at the option of the Assured.

THE PROFITS

are divided at each Investigation, according to an approved and equitable system of division, whereby substantial justice is secured to all the Assured, without any unfair preference being given to the earlier Entrants, either by an indefinite postponement of the period of Investigation—by drawing back at each Division to the date of the Original Assurance—or by any other modification of the Tontine principle, as opposed to that of pure Life Assurance, whereby the Interests of new Entrants are exposed to an unequal and disadvantageous competition with those of the older Members. The Bonus Additions vest immediately on declaration; and they may be appropriated in any of the following ways:—

I. As a PERMANENT ADDITION to the Sum Assured by the Policy.

II. In Reduction of the FUTURE PREMIUMS payable under the Policy.

III. By an Immediate CASH PAYMENT of the present value of the Bonus.

Intending Assurers are particularly requested to observe that they have thus placed within their own choice every possible mode of appropriating the Bonus Additions declared upon their Policies, in the way which they may consider most suitable to their own views and circumstances.

THE FIRST INVESTIGATION

took place at Christmas 1846, when a REVERSIONARY BONUS OF TWO PER CENT. PER ANNUM, vesting immediately on declaration, was added to all Policies entitled to participate in the Division.

HALF-CREDIT PREMIUMS.

Persons who may find it inconvenient to pay the full Annual Premium at first, may effect Assurances for the Whole Term of Life on the HALF-CREDIT SCALE, whereby one half of the Annual Premiums may remain unpaid for Three, Five, or Seven years;—the arrears being either paid up at the end of the period, or allowed to remain as a permanent debt against the ought to be conducted; and, amongst the numerous Life Insurance Offices now competing for the public favour, very few, comparatively, have attained such a period of endurance. The Edinburgh Life Assurance Company has been successfully conducted for upwards of Twenty-seven Years, being the best guarantee that all the advantages hitherto given to the Assured, will be continued to present and future Entrants.

By a Policy with this Company, the highest benefits that can be obtained from adopting Life Assurance as a Family Provision, are secured to the Assured without liability.

Nine-tenths of the Whole Profits are Septennially divided among the Assured on the Participation Scale; a larger proportion than can ever be safely divided by simple Mutual Assurance Societies, in which at least one-third must always be laid aside to form a guarantee.

The benefits of Insurance on the Participation Plan are exhibited in the Company's Bonus Declarations in 1835, 1842, and 1849—the total Bonus in two instances exceeding the sum originally insured; others in proportion. See Prospectus, to be had gratis, on application.

An intermediate Bonus between one investigation and another.

The Non-Participation Scale of Premiums being extremely moderate, is suited for money transactions; and also presents the advantage of an immediate Bonus of considerable amount, when compared with most other Offices.

AGENTS, KILMARNOCK,

BEG leave to recommend the protection afforded by this Institution against the destructive ravages of fire, which, in a few moments, may lay waste the fruits of a whole life of industry.

The experience of more than half a century has manifested to the public the promptitude and liberality with which all losses have been adjusted by the PHENIX FIRE OFFICE, to the extent of upwards of Six Millions Sterling.

Persons Insured by this Company do not depend upon restricted funds for the payment of their claims; nor are they liable to make good the losses of others, as is the case in many Offices.

The security afforded to the public by the Phoenix Insurance Company—continued.

Phoenix Office is unlimited, comprising, in addition to the large invested Capital of the Company, the whole fortunes of a numerous Proprietary, composed of some of the most opulent Gentlemen and Merchants in the kingdom.

Insurances are effected upon every species of Property on the most favourable conditions.

Any orders or communications will be as punctually attended to, and on the same terms, at the AGENTS' HOUSE, as at the Company's Offices in London; or a line addressed to the Agents will meet with immediate attention.

Rates and Particulars of Insurance may be had as above.

EDINBURGH LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY,

THE DIRECTORS OF THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY REQUEST ATTENTION TO THE HIGH POSITION IN WHICH THE COMPANY STANDS IN PUBLIC FAVOUR, THE SUCCESSFUL RESULTS OF THE BUSINESS, AND THE LIBERALITY OF ITS DEALING.

I.—PROGRESS OF THE BUSINESS.

The Company have granted Assurances, during the last two years alone, to the amount of Nine Hundred and Thirty-eight Thousand Pounds, and upwards of One Thousand Six Hundred and Fifty Persons have joined the Company as Assurers in that period.

The Annual Income of the Company is upwards of £170,000.

II.—DIVISION OF PROFITS.

The PROFITS OF THE COMPANY are ascertained every five years, and additions, by way of Bonus, have been made to the Policies at four periods, 1835, 1840, 1845, and 1850. The following are examples :—

Standard Life Assurance Company—continued.

Date of Policy.	Sum in Policy.	Bonus Additions.	Together.
1825,	£1000	£873 0s.	£1873 0s.
1828,	1000	729 0s.	1729 0s.
1831,	1000	585 0s.	1585 0s.
1834,	1000	441 0s.	1441 0s.
1837,	1000	309 10s.	1309 10s.
1840,	1000	203 0s.	1203 0s.
1843,	1000	121 10s.	1121 10s.
1846,	1000	52 10s.	1052 10s.

SURRENDER OF BONUS FOR VALUE IN CASH.

According to this method, if the person assured does not wish the sum in his policy increased, he may surrender the Bonus, and take its value in cash ; that is, instead of the amount being paid with the sum assured at death, such a sum will not be given as the Directors may consider equivalent to it in present value.

Example.—In the case of the policy of £1000 opened before 15th November 1825, for instance, as quoted above, assuming the party to have assured at the age of 35, and to be now 60 last birth-day, the sum of £463, 7s. 9d. would be given for a surrender of the Bonus of £873, while the policy will continue to receive its share of profits, at future investigations, as if the surrender had not taken place.

By order of the Board,

WILL. THOS. THOMSON, Manager.

HAVE A MOST PLEASANT TASTE.

Price 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 11s. per box.

This is an aromatic and aperient Medicine of great efficacy for regulating the secretions, and correcting the action of the Stomach and Liver, and is the only safe remedy for all Bilious Affections—Heartburn, Sick Head-Ache, Giddiness, Pains in the Stomach, Flatulency, or Wind, and all those complaints which arise from Indigestion or Bilioussness.

It is mild in its action, and suitable for all seasons and constitutions, while its agreeable taste renders it the best Medicine for Children.

TESTIMONIAL.

GENTLEMEN,—We have much pleasure in bearing testimony to the very great efficacy of Dr. Locock's Wafers. We have no hesitation in saying this from our own experience, and they continue to give the same satisfaction wherever they are introduced.—Signed, J. R. Allen and Co., 2, Tringate, Glasgow.

ALSO,

HAVE A PLEASANT TASTE,

Price 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 11s. per box.

They fortify the constitution at all periods of life, and in all Nervous Affections act like a Charm. They remove all Obstructions, Heaviness, Fatigue on Slight Exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Weakness, and Allay Pain.

They create Appetite, and remove Indigestion, Heartburn, Wind, Head-Ache, Giddiness, &c.

In Hysterical Diseases, a proper perseverance in the use of this Medicine will be found to effect a Cure after all other means have failed.

 Full directions are given with every Box.*

ANOTHER CURE OF ASTHMA.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. William Barton, Apothecaries' Hall, Campbellton, Argyleshire.

"GENTLEMEN,—I may here mention that your Wafers give great satisfaction; one case in particular:—An old gentleman, who for years has been afflicted with Asthma, and seldom had a quiet night's rest, had used very many proprietary medicines, as well as medical prescriptions, but all were of no use. Since he began to use Locock's Wafers, he feels himself quite well again. He sleeps well at night, and is quite refreshed in the morning.

(Signed) "WILLIAM BARTON."

From Dr. J. D. Marshall, M.D., Lecturer to the Royal Institution, Belfast, and Chemist in Ireland to Her Majesty the Queen.

"8, HIGH STREET, BELFAST.

"GENTLEMEN,—I have the gratification of stating that, from all I have been enabled to observe of Dr. Locock's Pulmonic Wafers, they have been of eminent service in the alleviation of severe Asthmatic Coughs, Pains in the Chest, &c.

"I have no doubt that when they become more generally known in the North of Ireland, they will be as highly esteemed as they are in other parts of the kingdom.

"J. D. MARSHALL, M.D."

To SINGERS and PUBLIC SPEAKERS they are invaluable, as in a few hours they remove all hoarseness, and wonderfully increase the power and flexibility of the voice.
